MARSHAL KILLS MAN.

Wednesday night at 12:30, the night marshal, Boss Daugherty, shot Will LeSleur twice, both balls entering his breast just below his heart, one passing through his body, the other ranging upward and lodging in the shoulder. The night marshal had started to the lockup with LeSleur, for being drunk, and before reaching the city bastile, LeSleur knocked the officer down and jumped on him, and it was while under LeSleur that he fired the shots. Daugherty's clothing was very bloody, showing LeSleur must have been immediately over him. The officer called for help, but no one went to his assistance, although there were many near.

Soon after the shooting, S. S. Thompson, city marshal, was on the scene, and ran into the lockup. Lame Jackson, a woman and a man companion.

Jackson will be tried on the charge of resisting an officer and being drunk and disorderly. He was the direct cause of the shooting, by putting LeSleur from the officer, enlisting and encouraging LeSleur to oppose arrest.

LeSleur died yesterday at 42 m. and will be buried today. He was a son of Rafe LeSleur, one of the old landmarks of this section.

A coroner's jury was summoned and an inquest held, retaining a verdict that LeSleur came to his death by wounds inflicted by Boss Daugherty, and that he was justified in the killing.

Charlie Wells, Jr., was appointed Treasurer. V. P. Adams, resigned.

salmon 11 inches; measurement tip of nose to fork.

Sale of game prohibited under heavy penalty.

Carrying corporations, either corporations and dealers must open packs, boxes on demand, under heavy penalty; seizure of contraband goods without protest; game warden to have powers of sheriff. Game warden must be skilled in knowledge of fish and game. Safety $2,500 may appoint one or more deputies in each congressional district.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The Dowd and Gayoso school districts have been merged together and on the 19th voted bonds to the amount of $15,000 to build a new school. Judge S. H. McVarty, attorney for the new district, has already sold the bonds, and the contract to build the house will be let Saturday.

The directors for the new district are: W. E. Gotcher, R. D. Reed and Elias Nunn, and J. H. Adams, clerk.

The site for the new building will be just this side of the river, at the Deshennett place.

Concord voted on the 20th to build a $27,500 school house, and the bonds are being placed on the market. This is a good move.

Dry Bayou has voted to build a $12,000 school house and the work will be rushed to completion.

The next move will be for the Carleton district to arrange for a new building and the formation of a new district between Hayti and Braggatario.

Surely Pemiscot county is coming to the front.

COUNCIL MEETING.

At the council meeting Monday night very little business of interest was transacted.

H. A. Dorrell, city jail custodian, was ordered to meet with the board for settlement, and Drs. Crider and Trautmann were appointed to serve with the mayor on the board of health.

Charlie Wells, Jr., was appointed Treasurer. V. P. Adams, resigned.

TWO BALL GAMES

Some of the best games of ball ever played in Hayti were pulled off at the big park Saturday. In the first game, the 2nd teams of Cartherville and Hayti played 5 to 2 in favor of Hayti, and in a second game, the 1st teams of Cartherville and Hayti played 3 to 2 in favor of Hayti. This last was between the kids of both towns, and those who witnessed the game say it was fine.
